

My sizzling start

At 5pm at the beach there was someone named Jordan. He was playing on the sand before he jumped into the water but he noticed a mysterious box and he was thinking in his head could that be someone in there spying on me. but he didn't know so he went and checked it out because it was only 25 meters out and it turned out that it was just actually a box that fell off so he had nothing to worry about.